

CFM NEWS Release

CORPORATE FLIGHT MANAGEMENT

Because Time Creates Opportunity<sup>SM</sup>

Senior Pilot and Business Leader named VP for Marketing

April 25, 2008: Former naval aviator and senior airline captain Bill Minkoff has joined the Corporate Flight team as Vice President for Marketing. His primary responsibilities include expanding the firm's charter fleet, attracting leaseback partners and working with senior management on establishing Corporate Flight as a national brand.

"Beyond his considerable knowledge of flight operations, Bill has hands on experience in business management, financial planning and sales," Said CFM CEO Allen Howell. "He will be a great asset to the company as we continue building our brand and seeking future opportunities," he said.

Minkoff's aviation career began in the cockpit of an A-7 attack aircraft. During a distinguished tour of duty with the U. S. Navy he earned the prestigious "Top Gun" award at Strike Fighter Weapons School.

He later rose through the ranks of Delta Airlines to become an international captain. In addition to his duties as a line pilot, Minkoff co authored Delta's Aviation Safety Action program and managed safety seminars for the Airline Pilots Association.

"Corporate Flight Management is among the most innovative firms in our industry. I am looking forward to building on their remarkable record of success," said Minkoff.

CFM is a global aviation resources firm. CFM provides charter, aircraft management, maintenance, ground support, infrastructure development, aircraft sales, pilot training and financial services. The firm is based in Smyrna, Tenn.

###